INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup vodka
- 2/3 cup Meyer lemon juice (2-3 lemons)
- 1/3 cup superfine sugar

METHOD

This delightful cocktail will ward off your cold weather blues and bring some post-holiday cheer. It relies on a simple ratio of 3-2-1 (three parts vodka, two parts Meyer lemon juice, one part superfine sugar), so however you measure your ingredients, be it cups or tablespoons, this ratio remains the same.

If you don't have superfine sugar leftover from your holiday baking, don't worry, you can make it with other sugars. But you do want to ensure that the sugar dissolves completely. Put a cup of sugar in your food processor, and process for 1-2 minutes and 'Voila': superfine sugar. Measure your portion after processing. Put the three ingredients in a sealed container (like a mason jar) and shake until the sugar dissolves. Then add ice and shake again until your drink is chilled. Serve immediately with a lemon wedge and if you like, a lemon-sugared rim!
